Latest developments

Welcome to the third newsletter of The Womenin Project. Below, we will share with you our latest achievements, project's progress and development plan for upcoming months, that we have undertaken to deliver you high quality, educational content. The most recent development of the project's team was an online meeting held on the 3rd of April, that let us ensure steady and smooth progress of the project activities.

Recently achieved milestones

Project's handbook has been completed

We are happy to inform you that development of the project's handbook has been completed. It's goal is to encapsulate the entirety of gathered knowledge regarding the current state of the women entrepreneurial environment, challenges faced by such women, resources available to them and testimonials from women entrepreneurs from partnering countries. We believe, that this project's output will become a valuable source of essential knowledge for various stakeholders, ready to be effectively utilized as a stepping stone for anyone's entrepreneurial journey. The handbook, along with brief summary for each country in all 7 languages, is publicly available on the project's website (<https://www.womenin-project.eu/outputs/>).

Educational course nearing completion

Another objective of the Work Package 2 is getting close to full completion as well. This main educational resource of the project, that is expected to efficiently convey crucial knowledge dedicated for aspiring entrepreneurs, will be soon available on the on-line learning platform. Holistic approach of the course let us focus on every major topic of significance. From introductory matters, through the importance of digital skills, to efficient resource management - these and all the remaining discussed issues will become a solid entrepreneurial foundation for the project's stakeholders, to build upon. As of now, the final version of the course is undergoing rigoristic evaluation, which once finished, will be followed by translation of the contents from English to all seven project languages.

Digital learning environment in development

We are moving onwards, now focusing our efforts on the Work Package 3 activities. This WP revolves around the creation of the digital learning tool developed in Minecraft Education environment. Thanks to utilization of this innovative method of knowledge transfer, we are expecting this solution to become not only more engaging and immersive than conventional means, but also vastly more effective in achieving satisfying didactic results. Currently, our team is dedicated to creating scenarios of specific Worlds within this environment - writing believable and interesting narration and characters, building challenging activities' mechanics and filling all these experiences with high-quality, industry-specific knowledge. After completion, this tool will become the next step in the project's educational vision, that will solidify previously gained insights and let the user gain even deeper understanding of discussed matters.

What's next?

After finishing the tasks mentioned above, and ensuring the highest quality level, we plan to move forward onto the following activities:

- implementation of features, dialogues, exercises and educational content to Minecraft Education environment,
- evaluation and testing of the first iteration of completed Minecraft educational game,
- transnational project meeting in Rotterdam, with the goal of ensuring smooth and steady pace of progress.
